KENNEDY TO VISIT DEGAULLE IN PARIS

Off-Duty Policemen Nab Escapee

Fled Trenton Prison

An escapee from the Mercer County Jail in Trenton stuck in his thumb and pulled out a glum last night when he hitched a ride with a pair of off-duty Bristol Township police officers.

The patrolmen were in a 'private' car when they spotted the fugitive and, suspicious, stopped to talk to him.

The escapee, Charles Springer, 30, had sprung himself from jail at 8:14 p.m. and had eluded a massive man-hunt in Trenton before crossing the Delaware River into Lower Bucks County.

It was about three hours after the breakout that Springer was spotted by township Patrolmen Richard Ellison and Andrew Zosh, who were on their way home from work in Ellison's car.

Ellison said he was driving Zosh home from work in his car when they noticed a hitch-hiker on Newportville-Fallsington Road near Holly Drive. They pulled over.

When asked where he was going, Springer said Mayfair, a section in Philadelphia. Ellison, who

Project Recommended Sewer Authority Asked For Bucks

The creation of a Bucks County Water and Sewerage Authority was recommended to the county commissioners today by the Water and Sewerage Commission, which studied means of implementing the county's $60,000 water and sewer survey.

G. Thawley Hayman, chairman of the study group, said a county program should be voluntary "as regards any and all local municipalities affected."

In a five-page report, Hayman's group said central planning and coordination would effect large savings in construction, financing, maintenance and operating costs of water and sewer systems.

"Substantial economies are possible from larger plants and facilities," the commission reported, "and some projects are not possible unless undertaken on a county basis."

Health Concern

"In this area of great concern to the public health and welfare of everyone in the county," the report said, "it is clear that the county should take the leadership."

"Evidence is at hand that many local municipalities would welcome county help and leadership in planning, in construction and

Fireman Hurt In Motel Blaze

A Falls Township volunteer fireman suffered minor injuries last night while helping to douse a blaze that caused $1,200 in damages to a Route 1 motel.

Treated at Mercer Hospital, Trenton, for face cuts was James Purdy, 26 Viaduct Lane, Vermilion Hill, Levittown.

Bucks County Fire Marshall Fred K. Hibbs said Purdy was trying to grab a high-pressure hose that had broken loose when the hose hit him in the face.

Three Fire Companies

Purdy is a member of Fallsington Fire Co. No. 1, one of three township fire companies that answered an alarm at the Ron-Dale Motel, Route 1 near Oxford Valley Road, about 9:30 p.m.

Other companies that helped bring the fire under control in about 20 minutes were the Fairless Hills Volunteer Fire Co. and Levittown No. 1.

The fire was discovered by

Thousands Undaunted By Easter Chill

Lower Bucks County residents turned out in large numbers yesterday, the 1961 Easter Sunday, despite chilly, windy weather to take part in church services, Easter parades and egg hunts.

On the Levittown Shop-A-Rama mall, women among the more than 1,500 persons attending the Levittown Businessmen Association's fourth annual Easter parade held tightly to their resplendent Easter bonnets as they walked before the judges.

Music for the occasion was provided by the Lower Bucks County string band. Included among the judges were Horace G. McNab, Mrs. Joseph McNamara, I. Hamilton Bickel, Herman Sternberg, Betty Carlson,

Cease Fire Talks Continue U.S. 'Copter Pilots In Laos Defy Threats Of Chinese

By EUGENE MCLOUGHLIN United Press International

United States civilian pilots flew five American-supplied helicopters on their first supply runs over "frontline" areas in Laos today while Communist-supported troops continued to advance.

A Communist Chinese threat of intervention in Laos raised the spectre of a new Korean-type war unless the major powers can agree on diplomatic means to stop it.

The helicopters, part of a group of 16 supplied by the United States to the Royal Lao government to help ease its supply and communications problems, were assembled by U.S. Marines in neighboring Thailand and flown to Laos.

The five new helicopters were accompanied by four older helicopters when they flew off from the administrative capital of Vientiane in the direction of Tha Thom this morning.

Government troops were driven from Tha Thom, a village in Xieng Khouang Province 32 miles southeast of the vital plain of Jars, last Friday by Communist rebel troops who are being supplied by Soviet planes.

Thus, while the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union discussed a cease fire in Laos on the diplomatic front, both sides continued to back their partisans on the fighting fronts with aid.

Laotian Defense Minister Brig. Gen. Phoumi Nosavan said the pro-Red rebels still were advancing in the Tha Thom area after taking the village in an assault.

But government forces were reported advancing slowly against rebel patrols backed by artillery and mortar fire on the Vientiane-Luang Prabang highway near Muong Kassy, a key point on the road about 45 miles south of the Royal capital of Luang Prabang.

Gen. Phoumi said the Laotian government wanted to "thoroughly" study the Soviet Union's reply to British proposals for a cease fire and negotiated settle-

Take Off Your Easter Bonnet

The weatherman is giving Lower Bucks County ladies fair two more days to show off their new Easter bonnets. But after that they may have to store them for a couple of days.

The local weatherman forecasts mostly fair today with a high temperature of 45-50 degrees. The weather will be partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, with a low tonight in the 30s and a high tomorrow about 50 degrees.

But the five-day outlook includes a weather prediction of rain Thursday or Friday.

The Easter week-end gave area residents at least half a day of good weather. Yesterday's weather was sunny with an occasional appearance by the sun.

However, traces of snow flurries were reported yesterday and Saturday by the weatherman. The total precipitation over the week-end was .62 inches.

Yesterday's high was 44 degrees at 8 a.m.

Plans May 31 Trip

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy, accompanied by his wife, will visit France next month at the invitation of President Charles de Gaulle for a three-day state visit and discussion of a broad range of problems involving their two nations, the White House announced today.

The Paris invitation to the U.S. President — apparently — stemmed from troubles in Laos and the Congo and French-U.S. divergence on other policies. It followed extensive discussions among Kennedy, De Gaulle and their ambassadors.

The Kennedys will arrive in Paris May 31 and remain through June 2 in what was described as a "modified" state visit. This meant some of the ceremonies involved in such a visit will be dispensed with to permit De Gaulle and Kennedy greater opportunity to discuss business.

The Chief Executive's first official visit to Europe was announced simultaneously in Paris and Palm Beach as Kennedy prepared to fly back to Washington Tuesday for conferences the remainder of the week with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger declined to discuss the possibility that visits to London, Bonn and Rome might be added to the French trip. He said the meeting in Paris was the only item on the Kennedy overseas agenda at present.

To Canada First

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is due in Washington April 5 and Kennedy was expected to urge Kennedy to include Bonn on his May-June itinerary.

The President's first trip out of the country, according to present plans will be to Ottawa, probably in mid-May, to address the Canadian Parliament. This trip originally had been set for sometime in the first half of June, but is being advanced because of the visit to France.

Kennedy is expected to leave Washington May 29 for a speaking engagement in Boston. Then he will speak May 30 in New York City to the Eleanor Roosevelt cancer fund dinner, and depart for Paris from New York the next day.

Staino, Berkery Get Joint Trial

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (UPI) — Judge Charles Staudenmeier ruled today that Ralph Staino and John C. Berkery will go on trial together beginning Wednesday for the burglary at the home of a coal executive here two years ago.

Staudenmeier said that the trial of Philadelphia nightclub owner Lillian Reis, 31, will follow that of Staino, 27, and Berkery, 30, of Haddon Township, N.J. Staino is Miss Reis' nightclub manager.

The Schuylkill County jurist also approved the presence of police witnesses in the court during the trials. The defense attorneys had asked for sequestration of all witnesses.

Who Is Segment? Explain Statement, Ault Urges Beckert

Falls Township Republican chairman George J. Ault today demanded that District Attorney Paul R. Beckert "mention the names of the segment of the Republican party whose endorsement he did not seek or encourage."

Off-Duty

thought he recognized him from a Trenton wanted bulletin, questioned him about the address.

Springer, who gave a fictitious name and address, couldn't explain exactly where he was going. Ellison, who knew the Mayfair area, became more suspicious but he offered to drive Springer to Philadelphia.

Instead, they drove Springer to Bristol Township police headquarters.

Springer was taken to Bucks County Prison, Doylestown, where he is awaiting extradition to New Jersey.

Foiled The Guards

Mercer officials said Springer used a ruse that a cellmate was injured to manage the escape.

He yelled to guards that the cellmate was bleeding from a cut wrist. When a guard responded, Springer overpowered him and snatched a three-foot metal handle from a mop bucket as a weapon.

Two guards and the center-keeper were "roughed up" and locked in the center of the jail during the escape. Matron Elizabeth Steinert, 66, was dragged around by Springer when she refused to tell him how to get out of the jail.

Two Steel Doors

With the mop bucket handle as a weapon, Springer made his way to two steel doors, his last obstacle.

Apparently by a stroke of luck, Springer pulled an unmarked electrical switch high opened one of the steel doors. As he passed through the door, the other was being closed by a woman returning with her daughter. She had been released for Easter Sunday.

Springer Shouted, "Don't close it!" and the woman unwittingly kept the door open for the prisoner to escape. He then slipped out into Cooper St. and the manhunt began.

Visited Girl Friend

Springer made his way across the Delaware into Bucks County, where he went to see a girl friend at a Falls Township trailer camp. Here he changed part of his prison garb and picked up a coat. Then he went to Newportville - Fallsington road in Bristol Township, where police found him walking along the road.

Police said he had been committed Jan. 2 after being convicted of robbing Lou's Home Movies, 1350 Chambers St., Hamilton Township, last December. He netted $600.

The woman friend is Mrs. Mary Emmett, 32, who corroborated him in his claim that he spent the morning of the robbery with her.

But Springer, who has three 1954 Mercer County burglary convictions, was "positively" identified by film shop owner Louis Kocsak as the man who held him up.

Springer was nabbed 10 days after the robbery by Falls Township police for driving without a license.

State May Double Education Spending

modate 35,000 students on its main campus and extension schools.

The report will show that school costs would rise during the next 10 years from the $834 million during the current school year to $1.653 billion in 1969-70 under the plan, entailing an additional $771 million in state and local taxes.

The committee estimated that even without the recommendations school costs will rise to $1.293 billion in the next decade.

The committee describes the report as "the last study on which we can afford to spend the dwindling moments of this last precious educational hour...it is time to be up and moving; it is time for action."

"The vastly accelerated tempo of the times, the competition for education and technological progress which the cold war foists upon us, the changing economy and its changing skills needs and demands an increasingly hot pursuit of excellence in education," the committee said.

The recommendations call for $143 million for increased teachers pay and benefits; $36,800,000 for expanded supervisory services; $8,700,000 for expansion of libraries; $17,200,000 for additional guidance services; $20,200,000 for extension of special education programs, and $12,800,000 for expansion of summer schools.

The scholarship program urges competitive awards ranging from $100 to $1,000 annually, depending on the financial need of the student.

In addition to the teacher salary boost, the committee will recommend teachers be paid for a 185-day working year, and minimum salaries be fixed at $4,200 in 1962 and be increased to $4,800 in 1965.

The committee will recommend no specific tax proposals to pay for the program, but will outline sources of revenue available for the legislature to consider.

Alternative Programs

HARRISBURG (UPI) — Gov. David L. Lawrence's Committee of Education today suggested three alternative programs of taxes to meet the costs of the changes it has recommended in the state's educational systems.

The first includes proposals of the 1959 Tax Advisory Committee which were not adopted by the last legislature. The program would include extension of the 4 per cent sales tax to include over the bar liquor sales, along with trade ins and restaurant meals costing less than 50 cents.

Also included was a tax on soft drinks, on tobacco products other than cigarettes, a state imposed 10 mill levy on intangible personal property and an impost on natural gas stored underground. The estimated revenues from all of these taxes, if enacted, would be $103 million in 1961-62.

The second alternative calls for converting the sales tax to a general coverage levy. Those items now exempted which include food and clothing, would be taxed to yield approximately $137 million additional in the next fiscal year.

The third suggestion was for several types of state income taxes. The committee said a 1 per cent wage levy would bring in $200 million and if this were extended to include income from dividends, interest, rents and capital gains another $15 million per year could be realized.

The group conceded that graduated personal income taxes "might require a constitutional amendment." It said one tax in this group, now imposed by New York state and ranging from 2 to 10 per cent, would yield $295 million.

ment of the Laotian problem.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home left London for New York today en route to Washington to join Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for talks with President Kennedy on Laos.

Cease Fire "Essential"

Home said a political settlement is the best way of restoring peace in Laos and that the Laotians should settle their own affairs.

"We always thought that a political settlement was possible in the Laos dispute," he said.

"A cease fire is essential because talks could not go subject to military pressure."

$70,000 Contracts Awarded For Bridge Safety Projects

Nearly $70,000 in contracts have been awarded by the Burlington Bridge Commission for projects considered vital to the safety of motorists.

Contracts to widen the approaches to the Burlington-Bristol Bridge went to the State Paving and Construction Co. of Philadelphia and Pangia Construction Co. of Atco, N.J.

State Paving submitted the low bid of $10,457 to widen the Pennsylvania approach, while Pangia's low bid of $21,933.70 was accepted for the New Jersey side's work.

To Eliminate Bottleneck

General Manager Leo Schaefer said the approaches are being widened to eliminate a bottleneck of traffic where the bridge curves. He said the work will widen the span as much as six feet on one end and would make it possible to operate all five toll booths at once during rush hours.

Schaefer said the elimination of walkways along the Pennsylvania side of the bridge would give motorists added space. He said stairs to the ground will replace the sidewalks near the edge of the river.

go and Franco-American divergence on other policies led to negotiations for the Paris invitation to Kennedy. The trip results from extensive discussions involving Kennedy, De Gaulle, French Ambassador Herve Alphand in Washington, U.S. Ambassador James Gavin in Paris, and Averell Harriman, the President's roving envoy.

Other items on the Kennedy-De Gaulle agenda are expected to be the French participation in North Atlantic Treaty Organization activities and French desire to continue nuclear testing.

According to informed sources, Kennedy in his talks with Macmillan and De Gaulle, also wants to convey politely an understanding that Great Britain and France no longer need regard themselves as brokers between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Freer, Rochester, N.Y., who were in an adjoining room. The firemen smelled smoke and called Russell Eberly, part owner of the motel.

Eberly turned in the fire alarm.

Use Fog On Flames

Hibbs said the firemen used fog to drench the flames in one unit of the four-unit motel section. Chief Robert Ryan, Fairless Hills Volunteer Fire Co., was in charge of the fire fighting operations.

Hibbs tated investigation by Ryan, Chief Robert Jones, Fallsington No. 1, Chief Thomas Ormond, Levittown No. 1, and himself disclosed that the fire started in a faulty electrical outlet.

Hole In Wall

The fire burned a hole in the motel unit's inner wall, near the outlet and then moved upward and across the ceiling, Hibbs explained.

Eberly and his partner, Benjamin H. Bowen, said they recently spent $3,000 renovating four of the motel's eight units.

Tullytown Does The Same Thing

Bristol Township Manager Richard J. Bowen, whose police issue many traffic tickets for illegal parking, found out Saturday night Tullytown police do the same thing.

Bowen attended a movie Saturday at the Towne Theater in the Levittown Shopping Center, which is in Tullytown Borough. When he left the theater he discovered a ticket for illegal parking in the windshield of his car.

According to Tullytown Patrolman Pat Coia, who wrote the ticket, Bowen's car was parked vertically in a spot where no parking is allowed.

Needs Attention

The water and sewage commission told the county commissioners: "There are many areas in the county which require immediate attention. The pressure of population growth is constantly magnifying old problems and creating new ones."

The county commissioners appointed the 12-man commission last fall after receiving the $60,000 report from Albright and Friel, consulting engineers.

The engineers said action was needed immediately on the county's water and sewer problem and they should be attacked on a regional basis rather than individually by each borough and township.

in operation of facilities either through supplementation of existing facilities and supplies, leasing arrangements or contractual programs for direct operation by the county agency," the report said.

It was recommended that the authority "develop a program for implementing the Albright and Friel report through voluntary cooperation by the local municipalities and promulgate this program to all townships, boroughs, cities, municipal authorities and other political bodies in the county and that the program be explained through meetings with the representatives of the 54 local municipalities."

Drunk Charge Faces Driver

John Reed, 56, of 289 Golden-ridge Drive, Levittown, who claimed that his battery didn't have any more juice in it, was charged with having too much juice inside him last night by Bristol Borough police.

Officers Michael Manto and James Flanagan charged Reed with driving while under the influence of alcohol when they found him parked in his car athwart the railroad tracks crossing Anthony Nichol bypass near Old Route 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Reed claimed that he had parked there because his battery was dead, the officers said.

Manto and Flanagan took him to Lower Bucks Hospital, where he was given a sobriety test. He was held for a further hearing late today.

Police claimed they found a container in his car with what he identified as Sterno in it.

Homebound With Easter Goodies Father Badly Hurt In Falls Accident

A Levittown father of four children who was critically injured in a car crash yesterday was reported in fair condition this morning at Mercer Hospital, Trenton.

The victim, Thomas Mullen, 33, of 54 Hawthorne Road, is expected to undergo face surgery, following the collision of his car with another driven by Mrs. Collette Loggion, 43, of Pebble Lane, Levittown.

The accident occurred shortly after 4:30 p.m. yesterday at Newportville Road and Hood Boulevard.

Mrs. Costance Killeen, 36, and her daughter Susan, 9, passengers in Mrs. Loggion's car, were treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital and released.

Mrs. Killeen suffered bruises of the head and right knee and Susan was treated for a cut on the left knee. Two other children of Mrs. Killeen, Joan 6, and James 3, were unhurt.

Mullen, who suffered severe cuts of the head and face and a possible fracture of the left wrist and knee was reported in poor condition when he was admitted to the hospital.

Falls Township police said Mullen apparently was heading home with Easter candies for his children when the accident occurred.

Mullen's car, according to a witness, spun completely around after it collided and headed into a wooded area on Newportville Road.

Traffic in the area was tied up for more than an hour.

300,000 See Cherry Trees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Forty-nine years ago, Japan sent the United States a living thank you in appreciation for America's intervention in the Russo-Japanese War of 1904-05.

More than 300,000 persons — most of them not knowing the reason behind the gift—yesterday viewed the famed 600 Japanese cherry trees lining the Washington tidal basin.

The pink, purple and white blossoms have become a part of springtime Americana that attracts tourists from across the nation to a spectacular display of natural beauty on the banks of the historic Potomac River.

The official cherry blossom festival opens Tuesday at a 300-year-old Japanese stone lantern nestled among the boughs.

Noriko Ikeda, daughter of Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, will signal the start of the annual festival by lighting the 10-ton lantern, brought here from a Tokyo temple.

'Sick Lawn' Clinic Slated

If the winter months have taken their toll of your lawn and shrubs, here's your opportunity to get free, expert advice on how to repair and overcome the damage.

Under the sponsorship of the Levittown Public Recreation Association, Richard A. Bailey, associate county agricultural agent, will conduct a "Clinic for Sick Lawns" Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Stage Room One at the recreation hall. Admission is free to all Levittown residents. Bailey will present a program of lawn and shrub care with slides, and will distribute printed material containing much helpful information.

In addition to Wednesday evening's program, arrangements have been made for Bailey to conduct a telephone clinic on April 6 and 20, on May 4 and 18 and June 1 whereby Levittowners may call in their lawn and shrub problems. If the problem cannot be answered by phone, Bailey will personally visit homes in the area to give personal attention to the problem.

The telephone clinic will be held from 10 a.m. until noon. Anyone who has a question concerning lawn or shrub care may call Bailey at Windsor 5-9993. During the afternoon hours Bailey will visit individual homes where he was unable to supply answer by telephone.

Three Held On Morals Charges

Justice of the Peace William H. Oettinger of Middletown Township Saturday held three Levittown residents for trial on morals charges as the result of arrests made a month ago by Bristol Township police.

Oettinger held Thomas Fagella, 26, of 31 Sunset Lane, Stonybrook Levittown, for statutory rape, assault with intent to ravish and indecent assault.

He held Patricia Whyne, 20, of 63 Whitewood Drive, on charges of sodomy, adultery and operating a disorderly house and Robert F. Stutzman, Jr., 26, of 236 Kenwood Drive, on charges of sodomy, operating a disorderly house and corrupting the morals of children.

All three were committed to Bucks County Prison in Doylestown without bail to await grand jury action.

Question

What do you think is the most exciting age to be?

THOMAS CONNORS, 89 Long-loop Road, Lower Orchard, Levittown, paper plant foreman.

I'm at the most exciting age right now. It's the age where I have my own home and am raising a family. I'd rather be this age because I have a lot to be thankful for.

MRS. RALPH PARK, 79 Huckleberry Lane, Holly Hill, Levittown, housewife.

I think my present age is the most exciting. I'm busy all the time. I have six children and they're always doing something amusing and something always happens. There's never a dull moment with children. I enjoyed the teen years, by my present excitement is more permanent.

JOSEPH KELLY, 26 Austin Road, Yardley, insurance company assistant manager.

I guess the most exciting age would be 21 or 22 when you're out of college and just starting in life with a whole new field of experiences in front of you. At that age, you're still young enough to enjoy yourself without too many cares or worries.

MRS. CAROLYN WILKINS, 244 Doone Road, Fairless Hills, housewife.

That's a hard question to answer. Any age is important. As you grow, you learn things. No matter what your age you have challenges and there always something interesting going on. I really can't single out one particular age.

JULIUS SABOL, 350 Jackson St., Bristol, factory worker.

I'd say from 17 to 25 when you are just beginning to take life's responsibilities and at the same time getting a great deal of enjoyment and pleasure out of life.

MISS BARBARA SEITH, 65 Curry Hill Road, Cobalt Ridge, Levittown, stenographer.

I'd pick 17 or 18, a person's senior year in high school. The football games, proms and excitement of graduation make life at that time very interesting and exciting. The young age, 21, too, would be exciting. It gives an individual the feeling of really being active in shaping the government and also gives the feeling of enjoying equal rights granted to all citizens of that age.

Tragedy Again Strikes

Fire And Fear Of It Ruins Life

SAGINAW, Mich. (UPI) — Mrs. Delores Johnson is a woman torn by the fear of fire, and fire has virtually ruined her life.

Four years ago she gasped in horror when she saw her 4-year-old daughter Debra Kay playing with matches. Almost insane with fear, she snatched the girl's hand and placed it over a gas burner.

She was convicted of cruel punishment and placed on three years probation.

On Easter Sunday fire struck again. In the early morning hours it raged through her house where she has seven children. Five of the children including Debra Kay and a 3 month old baby were killed.

Mrs. Johnson, 30, Darlene, 11, and Diane Mary, 2 escaped when a window was broken. "I tried to get back in the window," she sobbed. "I couldn't. Darlene said she could see the baby in a corner of the room but couldn't reach him."

Mrs. Johnson, who is divorcing her husband Albert, 31, said she rented the home for $60 a month in December so she could gather the children together from the foster homes where they had been living. She said she had just bought Easter clothes for the children with a $200 aid-to-dependent-children check on Saturday.

What caused the fire? Mrs. Johnson had no idea and firemen said the cause may never be determined.

Besides Debra Kay, the other children killed in the fire were Donna Jean, 9, Allan Dale, 6, Andrew Darrell, 4, and Jeffrey James, 3 months.

Johnson had no idea and firemen said the cause may never be determined.

Expected to review the bids tonight will be members of the building committee, including Carmen Carbiardi, chairman; Pat Tanzillo, Michael Demech, Domenick Marrazzo, as well as Catania. John DeMario is a new member of the committee.

The new clubhouse will be a one-story, with basement, structure, including club rooms, bar, offices, recreation rooms and conference rooms, all in a modern-designed building. The clubhouse is expected to be completed within four months' time.

Pay Tax On Installment: Petryszak

Installment tax paying has been proposed for Morrisville taxpayers by Samuel Petryszak, Democratic candidate for tax collector in the May primary.

"The present tax collection system is outmoded and in need of a complete overhauling from top to bottom," Petryszak said. The candidate added, "If I am elected I will absorb the entire cost of modernizing the system in order to give every possible break to the taxpayers of the borough."

Petryszak stated, "Today almost everyone pays bills on some form of a budget plan. Why not taxes?" He suggested taxpayers be permitted to pay equal portions of tax bills on the first of October, December, February and April.

Finch Jury Meets Today

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The jury that convicted Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff of murder meets today to decide if it will send the lovers to their deaths in the gas chamber.

The panel of 10 men and 2 women found the doctor and his mistress guilty exactly one week ago of killing Finch's wife on July 18, 1959. The state is demanding the death penalty for both.

Under California law, jurors must reconvene to hear further evidence and argument from both sides before meting out punishment.

If the opposing attorneys keep their presentations brief, a quick decision is expected by the jury — perhaps today — because it took only four days to reach a verdict.

Juries at two previous trials of the surgeon, 43, and his ex-receptionist, 24, failed to come to a decision despite weeks of haggling.

The new phase of the case will take place in the same old-fashioned courtroom where Finch and Carole were convicted of the gunshot death of the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara (Bunny) Jean, 33.

Finch was convicted of first-degree murder and conspiracy to murder. Both counts carry penalties of death in the gas chamber or life in prison.

Carole, a red-haired ex-model, was found guilty of second-degree murder and conspiracy to murder. The second-degree conviction means an automatic sentence of five years to life — but she also faces the gas chamber or life imprisonment if the jury imposes the conspiracy penalties.

What are 5 great goals in a family's life together?

- 1 Protection for the family.
With life insurance, a family is protected right from the start. For only life insurance guarantees, at the stroke of a pen, an amount of money far greater than most couples could save in many years.
- 2 A secure home.
A prudent husband safeguards the home his family loves by owning enough life insurance to take care of any unpaid mortgage. Life insurance guarantees this protection.
- 3 College education for their children.
By figuring in advance what it will cost to give their children a college education, parents can make sure—through their life insurance—that college expenses can be met.
- 4 Freedom to accept new opportunity.
The risks of a new business or job opportunity can be assumed more readily when the family is protected by life insurance. And with life insurance, husband and wife know in advance exactly how much money will be available for an emergency at any given time.
- 5 Retirement free of anxiety.
A husband and wife can get more pleasure from their later years when they plan their life insurance to provide a steady income which will last for both their lifetimes.

The wise family head carefully estimates his family's future needs, then plans his life insurance accordingly. Since family circumstances often change, many couples review their programs with their life insurance agent each year. In this way, they get the most from the unique advantages of their life insurance.
